Browner's Black Blitzen's.

The only tented attraction at the Bourbon Fair will be Browner's Black Blitzen's or the melody of the old plantation, comprising 16 performers each an artist in negro minstrelsy. The tent will be 60x90, with stage, scenery, orchestra, and comfortable seats for a large audience. Mr. Browner has visited several of the large cities for talent, and promises a show that pleases and that will not offend the most fastidious. The company is rehearsing and will give several performances each day during the fair. 24-th

Attached Property Released.

The 21 head of horses levied upon under attachment issued from the office of the Clerk of the Bourbon Circuit Court as the property of H. C. Litner, and in favor of Fox & Jewell, of Cincinnati, for the sum of $3,433.30, were released yesterday by Sheriff E. P. Clark. It transpires that the horses, instead of belonging to Mr. Litner, as alleged, were the property of W. W. Frymier, of Lancaster, Pa., and that Litner was only the purchasing agent of Mr. Frymier. Mr. Frymier, through his attorney, Hon. E. M. Dickson, gave bond, the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company, of Baltimore, being his surety. The horses will be shipped to their destination in Pennsylvania.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. Edward R. Salter made a master stroke when he secured Miss Lyda Powell, the splendid California actress, for the leading role in his latest offering, "A Mad Love," by Edward Locke, adapted from Miss M. E. Bradton's celebrated photel, "Lady Audley's Secret." Miss Powell is one of the most promising young women on the stage to-day. Her work, of an emotional character, is said to be the equal of Mrs. Leslie Carter. Miss Powell is not only gifted with remarkable talent, but also one of the most beautiful and graceful women before public. In the role of Lady Audley she has ample opportunity to show her well known emotional abilities. "A Mad Love" has created a great amount of talk; it is one of the dramatic surprises of the season. The local theatre-goers will have an opportunity of witnessing this much discussed play tonight. The company carries three car loads of scenery and electrical effects.

In Judge Hinton's Court.

Alonzo Fields, a negro, was up before Judge Hinton in police court Wednesday for engaging in a difficulty with a colored woman in which he struck her several blows. He was given a fine of $7.50 and on a warrant charging him with disorderly conduct was also fined $7.50.

James Brills, a young man giving Leesburg, Ky., as his home, was also before His Honor on the charge of drunkenness. He pleaded guilty and in ex enation of the offense said this was the first time he had ever been arraigned in a Court of Justice. Judge Hinton assessed a fine of $7.50, which he afterwards remitted. He told a story about having been robbed of $6, which seemed plausible, and the police are probing into the matter.

Yesterday Thomas Linville was fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct. Maggie Small, colored, was given the limit of $17.50 for drunkenness.

L. & N. Buys Right of Way Into Fair Grounds.

Hon. J. T. Hinton, representing the Bourbon County Agricultural Society, closed an important real estate deal with Superintendent W. H. Anderson, of the L. & N. R. R., whereby the latter opening to the Bourbon Fair Grounds, enabling the company to land their passengers within a hundred and thirty yards of the grounds. When the society bought the present location for the grounds they secured an option on a thirty-foot right of way through Mr. Kennedy's property to the tracks of the L. N. railroad.

By the deal closed Wednesday the railroad company for a consideration of $500 secures this tract of ground during the existence of the fair and will at once build a twelve foot walk of crushed stone to their tracks at the crossing of the Clintonville turnpike where the company will have depot facilities for handling large crowds, and will run trains every fifteen minutes from the city to the grounds.
